This edition comprises a corpus of royal deeds of the Latin kings of Jerusalem in the time of the Crusades. In its main series it consists of 836 items. 266 of these documents, authentic as well as forged, are presented in full text. The balance is covered by deperdita and others.

Hans Mayer’s edition covers almost 200 years, spanning the reigns of 29 kings and queens, and the regents. It presents the deeds of the kings and uncrowned rulers of Jerusalem, including Conrad of Montferrat, those of the queens and regents of Jerusalem, one heir to the throne, and the Patriarch of Jerusalem, who issued one deed, while acting on behalf of the king without being regent.

The line of sovereigns begins with Duke Godfrey of Bouillon (1099-1100), followed by Baldwin I. (1100-1118), Frederick II. (1225-1250), Conrad IV. (1250-1254), and Charles I. of Anjou (1277-1285). It ends with King Henry II. of Cyprus (1286-1291).

The renowned scholar Hans Eberhard Mayer has dedicated almost 50 years of research to the age of the Crusades. This volume is his Opus Magnum.
